Dear Wallace family,

Summertime is marked by longer and hotter days. We often spend more time outside, hiking in the woods or playing on the lake. Our kids are playing in the neighborhood or you're taxiing them from activity to activity. School is out and many people plan vacations over the next few months.

I want to challenge you to make the most of your summer this year. When the calendar turns over in January, you will see lots of advertisements for gym memberships or weight loss programs. That is because these companies view the start of the year as a good time to target people to join the program. I believe that summer can be a great time for you to join the program, spiritually. The longer days offer more free time to read your Bible and pray. It is a great time to develop a daily quiet time. The time off of work could be used to volunteer in a local outreach or go on a mission trip. We have lots of trips headed all over the world every summer. We need workers for VBS or camps. It is also a great time for your Connect Group to plan a fellowship gathering at someone's home. Cookout on the grill and have fun making new friends.

We are studying the fruit of the Spirit over the summer on Sunday mornings, which will call us to examine our walk with the Lord. Even if you are out of town, you can worship with us online via Facebook or YouTube. The key is to continue growing over the summer and don't waste your time. God wants to work in your life—don't miss Him.

Sincerely,
John
